First Call, First-class Customer Service

WE'RE BACK!

Our proud history spans more than 80 years. The company began in 1936 with wholesale plumbing and field salvage operations. Ten years later, it was incorporated under the Newmans name and the focus shifted to the PVF industry. Over the years, Newmans has grown substantially through joint ventures and acquisitions. In 2016, Newmans' previous owners bought the Newmans name and secured the company's designation as the original Master Distributor for Newco products to inventory, sell and distribute valves to the oil and gas industry.

Customers loved the original Newmans Valve for its service and industry knowledge. Now Newmans Valve is back with that same excellent customer service and many of the same industry experts who served them over the past decade.
